For Whom the Law Toils

A dedicated police officer makes an arrest — breaking and entering.

A deputy district attorney, for one of several reasons, decided to file a misdemeanor charge instead of making it a felony count. It may be that the DA thought it would be less work to file as a lesser crime. Maybe he thought he'd have a better chance at getting a conviction as a misdemeanor. Judges tend to be soft, you know.

The judge, under constraint of some of the zaniest Supreme Court decisions in the long history of an otherwise august body, slaps the wrist of the burglar and turns him loose. Within a week he's broken into a local home and made off with several hundred dollars worth of plunder.

The wrist slapping isn't solely a local situation. Only a few weeks ago newspapers in Virginia headlined the story of a man who had fled there after allegedly murdering his girlfriend by stabbing her repeatedly.

A few days ago he was apprehended in Virginia. However, instead of being extradited back to the West Coast at the urging of law enforcement authorities there, the alleged killer was promptly released on bond and is free today while he awaits court proceedings.

It is this kind of reckless disregard for the public's right to safety that has become all too common in recent years.

Encouraged by a permissive Supreme Court which, among other things, ruled against capital punishment in 1972, our legal system has compounded its own difficulties by not cracking down on criminals often enough.

To the credit of individual states, 32 of them already have responded to the 1972 decision by enacting mandatory death penalty statutes. Their action comes in the face of a violent crime spiral that has seen homicides alone increase 60 percent since 1967.

In San Diego, Sheriff Duffy reported that crime was up in San Diego County during the first three months of 1975 by 33 percent compared to the same period a year ago.

"The public," writes Washington D.C.'s recently retired police chief Jerry Wilson, "has come to realize that 'life' sentences in reality mean incarceration for only a dozen years or so, and that 'constructive' incarceration now in vogue often means that cruel murderers may be walking the streets within a few years, perhaps months."

Additional states hopefully will follow the lead of these 32 in enacting death penalty statutes. Although it is possible that high court will attempt to void these laws at some point, public sentiment is probably strong enough that a constitutional amendment accomplishing the same thing could be passed if necessary.

A few days ago the Honorable Charles Malik of Lebanon cited the "moral crash throughout the world." He had his eye on the growing crime rate in America. It was noted that much responsibility comes from within the law enforcement agencies themselves — including courts, prosecutors and prisons.

At a law seminar held in Miami, an Assistant Attorney General of the State of Florida warned his audience, mostly law enforcement officers, about making arrests outside their own municipalities — specifically when they are not on duty and when not backed up by the municipality.

He said it didn't make any difference if they came upon a felony being committed.

One in the audience, a judge, asked if that meant if a policeman saw a woman being raped, he should ignore it?

"That's exactly what I mean," the Assistant Attorney General answered.

The above are some of the reasons why victims of crime continue to suffer while the perpetrators of crime are having a field day.

If that's bad take a look at a San Diego County situation. The cops caught the burglar with the expensive camera equipment he had when he tried to hock the stuff.

A visit to his house uncovered a veritable warehouse of other stolen merchandise. He confessed to his transgressions. But when the arresting process was being done, it was revealed that he was on probation on other burglary convictions.

Of course you want to know how long his sentence was. He was not sentenced at all, in effect.

The probation department and the district attorney worked out a deal. They agreed to defer his trial until his present period of probation is over because conviction of violating probation is a serious matter (for the burglar) and he would almost automatically go to prison for a long period.

Were probation and district attorney so sensitive that they wanted to take another swing at salvaging this crook? Not at all.

If the burglar could avert trial until his present probation period ended, he could appear in court without the automatic imprisonment possibility hanging over him. Then he could be put on probation again by convincing the court that he had survived his first probation and is therefore worthy of consideration for another.

But the snapper is that the probation department gets $4,000 in grant for every crook that is kept out of prison.

That's a fine philosophy for a person who gets tripped up once in his lifetime. But on a repeater, it's putting a crook back on the street where he can continue to victimize the people who plead for safety on the streets and in their homes.

Law enforcement is bilking the public by using this device to help fund a public body.

Manager's License Missing

Marshall Barclay Belutire, cense while Virginia Lee, 25, of 8982 Harness st., Spring of 169 Evergreen, Imperial Valley, was charged June 4 Beach, was doing her topless by sheriff's deputies with failure to possess a male manager's license as he pursued his duties at the Foxy Lady, a topless bar at 7828 Broadway in Lemon Grove.

The arresting deputy explained that the law requires a male with a county manager's license to be present that he had locked $240 in when topless dancers are performing. The deputy said Belutire possessed no such li-

GATEWAY TO GROVE — Pre-cast concrete girders form the skeleton of the Lemon Grove Avenue bridge which may be open to traffic as early as August according to Daley Construction Co. engineer Jim Martin. The new Rt. 94 exit will deposit freeway traffic onto Imperial (back-ground) via the new roadway.

Utility lines are now being installed on the freeway crossing and the engineer estimates that work on the top deck which includes sidewalk access, should commence in mid-July. The pedestrian crossing east of the bridge will be destroyed when the bridge opens, Martin reports.

Brookside-S.V. Creek Hassle Unaided by U.S. Army Engineers

Nearly 300 persons attended the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers sponsored June 4 meeting of alternative proposals for flood control of the Spring Valley Creek at Mt. Miguel High School.

There was agreement on one situation — that disagreement ran in three directions.

There was disagreement between residents of the Brookside area and those with property in the flood plain area southeast of Brookside. Brookside wants a covered waterway made of the open ditch that feeds into the Spring Valley Creek.

S.V. Creek residents want the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to pack up and get out. "There never has been a '100 year flood' in the creek area," they say. "All we want is for the county to keep the ditch clean and make the culverts a little larger," one resident said.

Brookside residents have been trying for years to get the County, State or Corps of Engineers — anybody — to enlarge and cover their ditch.

The County Board of Supervisors once said of the problem that it was there when the houses were built and it was a developer's problem. It was indicated that the developers were long gone and the residents wanted a condition that came with the homes should not be corrected with tax money.

Property owners in the Creek area are upset with the threat of a county ordinance that would prevent improvement or development within a proposed "flood plain overlay" area. It would set boundaries to which water would theoretically rise in a "100 year flood."

Optical Error Sighted

Last week this newspaper, reporting on the offices of optometrists Drs. Calvin Nicholls, Jerome Legerton and Gary L. Barnes, mistakenly called them the Lemon Grove Optical Co. The three doctors share offices at 7860 Broadway. Dr. Barnes recently became a member of the group. Lemon Grove Optical Co. is a different firm located at 7905 Broadway which fills prescriptions ordered by medical eye doctors.

construction would be permitted. If a home burned down, the land would be undeveloped forever. Nor could a resident build a porch, breezeway or garage. Already property values there have slumped, said one resident.

"We can't get a loan," he said. The third disagreement involves the Corps of Engineers. The Corps proposes a $7 million improvement that would provide a lined waterway and a cover for the Brookside property. The State would pay 80 percent of the cost, said Lt. Col. J. Reinen, who presided at last week's meeting.

"Make up your mind in 30 days or we will accept what to do through the County Board of Supervisors," he warned. But he also admitted it takes 15-17 years for a project such as he suggests to get under way.

Youths Face Charges Of Burglary, Robbery

John Gilbert Triplett Jr., 18, of 3903 Conrad dr., Casa de Oro, was arrested Monday, June 2 and charged with two counts of armed robbery and burglary. A 17-year-old companion was released to juvenile authorities.

Police records show that two youths robbed the 7-11 store at 4610 Avocado blvd. in La Mesa about 2 a.m. Saturday.

A blue steel automatic was used to procure $71 from the clerk after one of the suspects allegedly said, "I won't hesitate for a minute to shoot you if you don't do what I want."

The youths took the money and fled. They wore bandanna masks. A gun was found by sheriff's deputies under an avocado tree near the store. It appears to be the one used in the robbery.

In a separate incident, the Jamul General Store was burglarized of 24 cases of beer. The burglars, said to be the same pair, broke into the store through a back window. Henry Conrad Peter, said the loss was $170.

Deputies of the Lemon Grove office of the sheriff's department made the arrest.

Good Samaritan Bilked by Couple

Kathleen Rose Rice, of 1047 Carlsbad st., Spring Valley, told sheriff's deputies that she took the couple into her home because they had lived in the same apartment complex as did she on 49th st. in San Diego.

First, the woman moved in, and later, her husband. After several weeks the couple planned to move.

They did, Mrs. Rice reported, but they took practically everything she owned except furniture, when they left.

They arranged to move while Mrs. Rice was away, she reported.

Her loss, she said, was considerably more than $500.

lems we have is when debris clogs the undersized culverts and water backs up for a while," insists Creek residents. "If the county properly used gasoline tax funds to enlarge the culverts, there would be no possibility of floods."

One family claims to have lived in the Creek area for 40 years. "The only high water we've seen came from clogged culverts," they said.

So that's about it. One group wants the safety that comes with a covered ditch. The increased property value would be nice, too. Another group wants low-cost larger culverts for which they pay taxes but otherwise want to be left alone. The third party — the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers wants both parties to hurry up and decide what they want — so they can quickly get on with their project 15-17 years from the decision.

Rt. 94 Closed Tonight

The second night of the closing of 94 east will be tonight 10 p.m.-6 a.m. from the Spring Street off-ramp east.

The stretch was also closed last night, according to Caltrans. The closure is to allow bridgework to be set above the freeway at the Spring Street ramp.

Mt. Miguel's Duea to End 26-Year Admin. Career

Virgil E. Duea, assistant principal and competing in sports, principal at Mt. Miguel High School, ends a long career as teacher and administrator this week. He will retire at the close of the current school term Friday.

26 Years

Duea's retirement marks the end of 26 years on the administrative staff of Grossmont Union High School District.

He began as a history teacher in 1949 at Grossmont High. At the time, Grossmont was the only high school in the district. Two years later, when Helix High opened its doors, he moved there to become a social studies teacher and the ASB adviser.

In 1955 Duea returned to Grossmont High and served as a counselor for two years.

He then moved to Mt. Miguel to become the school's first vice principal. He served one year as acting principal while then principal Melvin Grant was on leave of absence.

The last five years Duea has been assistant principal serving with Principal Dr. Robert Pyle at Mt. Miguel.

Duea is the youngest of 13 children who grew up in Roland, a small town in north central Iowa. He is noted for his active role in both teach-

Active in Sports

He earned an All Conference title in basketball in high school. In college he became an All Conference guard and also participated in wrestling. Duea began his teaching career in a high school in Iowa where — for a salary of $65 a month — he taught five subjects and coached the basketball, baseball and track teams. The year was 1934.

He coached in Iowa for six years prior to World War II, during which he led a wrestling team to a state championship.

Duea is the second in his family to retire from a teaching career in the Grossmont district. Three years ago his brother, Ben, retired after teaching and coaching at Mt. Miguel and Helix High for 17 years.

Duea welcomes his retirement years which begin with a July vacation in Europe with his wife Sara, but he looks back on his career with fondness.

"The thing I enjoyed most was working with and helping students and teachers," he said. "I just enjoy people."

Goodwill Makes Housecleaning Meaningful

June is recognized as "Spring Housecleaning" month by Goodwill, said Allen Sutherland, president of Goodwill Industries of San Diego County.

The best way to recycle is to clean out unneeded or unwanted items from shelves and backroom closets and garages, he said.

"Giving to Goodwill includes recycling of human potential by giving people the opportunity to use their unique abilities in a worthwhile job; a job they might not otherwise have. And it recycles products so that others can use what you no longer need."

Helps People

Sutherland suggested that giving used and unneeded items from shelves and closets, contributors will be helping people help themselves by giving them jobs at Goodwill and supplying low cost goods for those who buy your discards and newly repaired items.

Incorp. Meeting Wed.

Area Graduates Earn Phi Beta Kappa Honors

Three local students graduating from San Diego State University this year have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest scholarship society in the country.

Paula Charlene Southwick and Richard Thomas Drab of Lemon Grove, and Robin Leigh Millard of Spring Valley were the local recipients of the honor among others in the May graduating class.

Miss Southwick, a graduate of Mt. Miguel High, earned a B.A. degree in psychology. She plans to pursue a career in research.

Mr. Drab earned an A.B. degree in Russian. He was a graduate of Chula Vista High school.

Spring Valley's Robin Millard received her B.A. in English. She is a Monte Vista High alumnus.

Phi Beta Kappa recognizes graduating seniors who attain high scholarship in the liberal arts and sciences. The society was founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary and in its first years established the essential characteristics of all scholarly societies.

Murderer Ruled Sane by Judge

Wendell Hobart Holmes, 27, of 8891 Lamar st., Spring Valley, was convicted Friday in Superior Court on a charge of first degree murder but acquitted on charges of assault.

The charges were in connection with the February 20 shooting death of Douglas L. Warner, 29, of La Mesa. The shooting took place in the home of Mrs. Lillian M. Hinckley, 22, of 2321 Prospect st., San Diego. Mrs. Hinckley and Holmes' estranged wife, Theresa Holmes, 22, of 323 Laurel ave., were wounded in the incident. Both were hospitalized for a short period.

At the trial Holmes admitted seeking out Warner but denied intentions to kill him. "The gun just went off," Holmes testified. "I don't know why I did anything that night. I was just reacting to a situation," Holmes said.

A Superior Court jury deliberated for nearly three days before convicting him. Superior Court Judge Verne O. Warner heard evidence and arguments on Holmes' sanity on Monday and pronounced him sane.

Holmes is scheduled for sentencing June 30.

Summer Programs Open June 23 at Trinity Church

Trinity Presbyterian Church, 3902 Kenwood dr., Spring Valley, is offering two summer programs which are open to the children of the community. Vacation Bible School for 4 through 12-year-olds will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on the week days June 23-July 3 at the church. The morning will be divided into times for worship, lesson, music, crafts, dance, drama and refreshments. A large staff has been assembled in each of these teaching areas, thus assuring the children a great deal of individual attention. Mrs. Richard Adams, an experienced teacher, is in charge of the program.

So many children in the fourth through sixth grade attend summer school in the morning, an afternoon workshop has been scheduled on Mondays and Wednesdays from 1 to 4 p.m., starting June 16. This session will run five weeks. A second session will start July 28.

The native of New Jersey had been a local resident for 25 years.

Recitation of Rosary was held Tuesday at Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary and interment followed the funeral mass at Holy Cross Cemetery in San Diego.

Legal Spec.'s Cause Third Delay in Church Opening

What was first meant to be built by February and then expected to be dedicated in April has been delayed once more. It is the Fair Havens Baptist congregation's new sanctuary located at 9255 Lamar st., in Spring Valley.

The congregation presently meets at 2115 Imperial ave. in Lemon Grove.

The delay was caused by overlooked clauses in their Special Use Permit. Members, who thus far have built the entire structure, must make between $10,000 and $12,000 worth of land improvements before they may occupy the new building.

Additional parking spaces will have to be laid, 20 percent more than expected, plus curbing and sidewalk to meet with civil ordinance standards. Landscape, windows, doors, fixtures and carpeting remain to be finished.

The church will attempt to finance the improvements by donation of heavy equipment and special investment loans through the General Association of Regular Baptists, according to Pastor Emory Langrel.

"It's too easy to be let down," said Langrel, after reporting the third delay in the building project. "But every one is taking it well."

The structure is expected to be completed by mid-summer.

Permistamp

A new pre-cancelled postage stamp is being issued which can be affixed to an envelope without licking. However it cannot be re-used because the new type adhesive destroys the stamp if it is pulled off the envelope.

Shakespeare Seats Going Fast, Old Globe Reports

Advance tickets are selling at a record pace for the current productions at the Old Globe Theatre's 26th National Shakespeare Festival. Reservations are substantially heavier than any previous season including last year's silver anniversary, according to general manager Robert McClade.

As of the first of the month, nearly half of all tickets to the plays were sold with one-third of the 128 performances completely sold out.

Three Shakespearean comedies and the musical "Godspell" comprise the summer schedule at Old Globe. The magical fantasy "The Tempest," the sophisticated romance "Much Ado About Nothing" and the moralistic comedy "Measure for Measure" are the Shakespearean repertory for the 26th season. "Tempest" and "Much Ado" opened last week and will alternate performances until July 9 when "Measure for Measure" opens. All three plays will continue throughout the festival season until September 14.

The international hit musical "Godspell" is performed at the adjacent Carter Centre Stage.

Cast Set for Light Opera's 30th Summer

Cast members were named and rehearsals began last week for the three musicals which herald Starlight's 30th anniversary season of the San Diego light opera.

"Paint Your Wagon," "Hello Dolly" and "Brigadoon" are scheduled in Balboa Park Bowl this summer beginning July 10.

Bob Howard captured the title role of Ben Rumson in "Wagon," the season's premiere production.

"Starlight fans have a real treat in hearing Bob Howard's great voice," director Ole Kittleson said.

As a young man, Howard pursued a successful career as an entertainer and night club singer. He elected to forego a professional career to raise his family in San Diego. He is currently chairman of the drama department at El Cajon High School.

Executive producer of the Starlight series J. Howard Stein reports that season ticket sales are up 5 per cent over last year.

"Paint Your Wagon" opens on July 10 followed by "Hello Dolly" on the 31st. "Brigadoon" will premiere August 21.

KRATZ SISTERS — Modeling their new nurse's uniforms are (l-r) Brenda Harris, Connie Peebles and Marga B. Duncan who are among graduates of the Grossmont College nursing program this June. The sisters grew up in Lemon Grove with their proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Kratz of El Prado st.

Grove Family Proud of 3 RN's

Grove Family Proud 3-1-36 Mr. and Mrs. William W. Kratz, residents for the last 21 years of 2161 El Prado st., Lemon Grove, have realized their dreams for their three daughters.

Six years ago the girls decided it was time to resume their education. Their goal was to become registered nurses.

They satisfied their college prerequisites and then applied at Grossmont College to enter the RN program.

Fate was with them as all three sisters were chosen from a field of 800 applicants competing for 48 openings.

Now, two years later, they have graduated.

Connie Kratz Peebles is the eldest. She graduated from Helix High in 1955. Some Grove residents may still remember her as Miss Lemon Grove of 1956 and third place finisher in that year's Fairest of the Fair contest at Del Mar.

Now married, the mother of five and grandmother of one, she and her husband spend half of their time in their Spring Valley home designed and built by husband, Dudley.

The other half of their weeks are spent at golf, tennis and "a whole lot of loafing" at their La Costa condo.

The Kratz's middle daughter, Brenda Harris, graduated from Mt. Miguel in 1960. Husband Bob works at Rohr and helps keep their three children in line during her schooling.

Youngest of the three is Marga B. Duncan of Lemon Grove. She is the mother of two and already is staff nurse at Mercy Hospital. Marga graduated from Mt. Miguel in 1962.

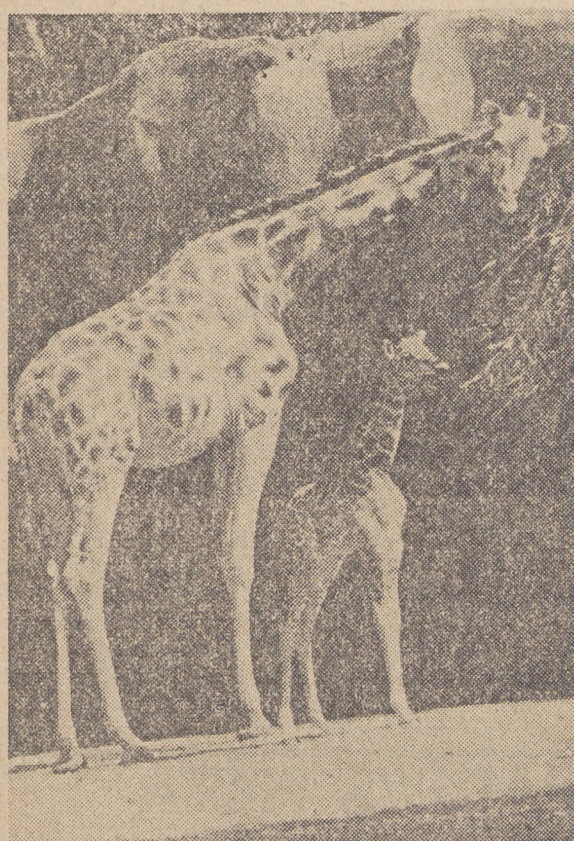

The Kratz's dream was that they would be the parents of three good girls. They recently presented each of their daughters with a trophy for having fulfilled their wishes.

HOME COOKED This Week's RECIPE Chocolate Almond Thins

The trouble with Chocolate-Almond Thins is that they may disappear almost as fast as you put them together!

Almost like candies, almost like cookies, they are probably most properly termed confections. With a very rich dough, crunchy roasted almonds and a copious coating of chocolate, they are irresistible.

CHOCOLATE-ALMOND THINS 1/2 cup granulated sugar 1 egg yolk 1 teas. vanilla 3/4 cup roasted diced almonds flour

1 cup margarine or butter 1 bar (8 oz.) milk chocolate 1 1/2 cup roasted diced almonds Cream margarine with both sugars. Beat in egg yolk and vanilla; stir in flour. Spread in 13x9-inch pan. Bake in 350° F oven 20 minutes. Break or cut chocolate bar into sections. Place on top of hot cookie mixture, spreading to cover entire top as chocolate melts. Sprinkle with almonds and press lightly into chocolate. While still warm, cut into squares, but do not remove from pan until cold. Make 32 pieces.

$39 pays for your choice of two brief courses offered by University of California's San Diego Extension in La Jolla.

A three week series on "Finding Your Self-Esteem" and a special six-session program on "Female Sexuality: The New View" begin during the last week of June, the start of UCSD's summer session.

The self-esteem course is counseled by Olivia Skinner, an associate of the Euthenia Clinic in Del Mar. Her class will promote the concept that security and strength derive largely from establishing balance in one's individual life.

Lee Barbara Teed, a sexuality counselor and educator with the General Institute of San Diego, will coordinate the series on female sexuality, promising to touch upon psychological, physiological, social, literary and cinematic aspects of the subject.

Registrants should contact the UCSD Extension office in La Jolla.

More Baseball to Be Aired

By Bob Wirz

The national coverage of major league baseball via the electronic media, which gained additional stature recently through the signing of two new network television contracts, had one more important dimension added when it was announced the CBS Radio Network had signed a four-year agreement to cover its glamour events.

CBS Radio will broadcast the All-Star Game, all games in the League Championship Series of both the American and National Leagues and the World Series on its 250-station network in the years 1976-1979, according to the announcement made at a press conference by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Sam Cook

Digges, president of the CBS Radio Division. Baseball will receive in excess of $300,000 for the broadcast rights plus the most comprehensive coverage it has had for the full lineup of its highlight events since the League Championship Series started in 1969.

Three Networks

Three networks will be involved, with NBC and ABC alternating on the television coverage.

"Baseball and CBS have had the desire to work together for some time," Kuhn said. "This provides us with a tie-up which should be excellent for both of us. But even more important the vast facilities of the CBS Radio Network will make the All-Star Game and all of our championship events available to so many fans."

"We want all baseball fans no matter where they may be to have these exciting events accessible to them. CBS radio will accommodate virtually everyone, regardless of their location."

Digges said CBS is "immensely pleased to have acquired these exclusive network radio rights. Our 250 affiliated stations have, for a long time, wanted us to provide them with broadcast coverage of these three sports spectacles."

The major increase in coverage will come in the League Championship Series since CBS has radio affiliates in all of the major league markets except Montreal and reaches 92 percent of the population of the United States.

Scheduling Change
A change in scheduling of the five-game championship series between the divisional winners in each league will make it possible for all games to be beamed from coast-to-coast via a national network for the first time in 1976.

An independent network handled the national radio coverage of the two LCS last year and is scheduled to again this season although simultaneous play of some games prevents any one station from carrying all contests live. Participating teams broadcast LCS games on their own regional networks, a right they retain with the new contract.

The NBC Radio Network will continue to carry the All-Star Game and World Series in 1975.

Announcers for the CBS coverage will be determined at a later date.

Baseball officials approved separate four-year television contracts with ABC and NBC March 13. Those agreements, which represent nearly a 30 percent increase in revenue over the four-year period ending with the current season and total $92,800,000, call for NBC to continue its Saturday afternoon coverage and for ABC to pick up an expanded Monday night package.

The networks will alternate on coverage of the All-Star Game and the championship events. The television pact also start next year. NBC will televise all of the events in 1975, including the League Championship Series which for the first time has night games planned for the third and fourth (if necessary) games in each league.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Hallelujah brother. There is truth in the world. A wrong has been righted, a bad judgment reversed, a grasping greedy grab released and withdrawn, a foul deed undone.

The power of the ruling body felt the pulse of the masses and changed its decree. Pro golf Commissioner Deane Beman and his Policy Board backed off from their earlier decision to steal the format of the MONY Tournament of Champions and force the 23 year prestigious tour attraction into oblivion.

Beman coveted the "winners only" structure of the T of C for his soon to be expanded "World Series of Golf" tournament, now owned outright by the Tournament Players Division of the PGA and scheduled to be installed as the four-year ending climax of pro-play efforts.

That was the "official" reason for Beman's proposed pilfering of La Costa's property. The "unofficial" cause for golf's seeming disenchantment with La Costa is reported to be the recently made charge by PENTHOUSE magazine that the luxurious resort was a hangout for the criminal crowd.

Penthouse writers Lowell Bergman and Jeff Gerth authored a piece that stretched the widest collection of fact and fiction over a matching frame of innuendo and illusion ever likely to see printed form without the standard fairy tale beginning "... once upon a time."

They spread their web verbiage over such innocuous events as visits by White House staffers, bankers, national union officers, attorneys, vacationing judges and law makers, including but not limited to Senators Jacob Javits (R. N.Y.) and Barry Goldwater (R. Ariz.), and such entertainers and celebrities as Sandy Koufax, Hoagy Carmichael, Dezi Arnaz, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Dean Martin and Henry Ford, among literally thousands of others and allege wrong doing must be taking place.

However, they also cite the inability of the FBI, IRS, Securities and Exchange Commission and the Post Office from finding out what kind of wrong doing they're doing. Then they go right on alleging.

The Penthouse pair quickly point out that La Costa principals Adelson and Irwin Molasky did, in fact, produce such television shows as "The Blue Knight" and "The Waltons."

And from these "facts" the writers allege that somehow the whole thing is related to illegal presidential campaign contributions, major oil company manipulations and the failure of the Penn-Central Railroad.

They did not say, however, whether or not La Costa visitors were responsible for killing Cock Robin.

Quick to spot the open window of opportunity, Beman sniffed at the Penthouse tale, smiled an inward smile and scratched La Costa from the tour, thereby leaving the highly successful T of C format for him to copy.

Then came the cavalry. Wading through charge and counter charge, and recognizing greed when they saw it, the body of goldfom nixed the grab.

The rank and file said no. Beman drew a bogey. Revolt was in the air. A quick change was found to be in order and was made. Beman backed off.

La Costa principals played a strong hand when they filed a $540 million libel suit against Penthouse, taking the magazine and the issue to court.

The Tournament of Champions was reinstated. In the end it was no contest. La Costa and its co-sponsor, Mutual of New York (MONY) will again host the winners of PGA tournaments in one of the most prestigious events of the game. (Players rank the MONY T of C right behind the U.S. and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters.)

Beman's quick switch saved his job, even though he showed a complete lack of public relation's skills during the claim jumping attempt was "no comment."

Football czar Pete Rozelle would choke before he'd use those words. Bowie Kuhn would gag on them. And he'll swallow almost anything.

Anyhow, the foul deed was undone and Beman has a burned paw. Maybe he learned that lesson with which managers, presidents, bosses and a lot of other front runners seem to have so much trouble. Don't mess with success, brother.

Sprint Cars Go At Ascot Saturday

GARDENA — Lakewood's National midjet star Bob Olivero and Steve Howard, two new main-event winners in the California Racing Assn. sprint cars, try for more Saturday night at Ascot Park.

The sprint cars, away from the Gardena half-mile for three weeks, get their first try on a new dirt surface, applied to the famous half-mile just two weeks ago. Earlier this season, the one-lap track record has been lowered three times, and the new surface should prove to be faster.

Olivero, who competed in two midjet races in Indiana three weeks ago, returned to California to pilot the Morales Brothers "Tamale Wagon" to victory in El Cajon. Bobby, holder of 12 USAC midjet career victories, was named the CRA "Rookie-of-the-year" last season.

Howard, one of many second-generation drivers in CRA sprints, equalled brother Gary's accomplishment by capturing a 30-lap feature at Santa Maria on Memorial Day evening. Gary and Steve Howard are the only brother team in the CRA ranks this season to win main events.

The Ascot weekend schedule: June 13, Fri., Open Competition Super Stocks plus Street Stocks, 8 p.m.
June 14, Sat., CRA Sprint cars, 8 p.m.
June 15, Sun., Street Stocks, 2 p.m.
June 15, Sun., FEAR Figure-8 stocks plus Demolition Derby, 8 p.m.
June 18, Wed., Motocross (CMC), 7 p.m.

Mets Here For Games With Padres Fri-Sat.

The Padres will host the New York Mets of the National League's Eastern Division Friday, Saturday and Sunday and then head into Northern California for the trio of outings with the Giants June 16-18.

Game times for the three contests with the Mets are 7 p.m. for the Friday and Saturday, June 13 and 14, go-rounds and then the usual Sunday 1 p.m. start for the finale.

"It goes without saying that every game you play is important, but those three games coming up against the Giants could be extremely important to us," commented second-year manager John McNamara. "We've actually got seven games coming up with San Francisco in a ten-day period and every one of them is going to have a tremendous bearing on our position in the standings."

"Right now we are locked in a real three-way struggle with the Giants and Atlanta Braves for that number three spot in the standings and we're all convinced that the key to our final standing at the end of the season will be in direct comparison to how we do in the season series with these two clubs. These are the clubs we have to beat to finish in the first division," summed up McNamara.

Three of Seven
So far everything is going smoothly for the Padres in their meetings with the two clubs mentioned by McNamara. The Pads have won three of seven with the Braves (after a disastrous 1974 campaign when they managed only one triumph) and stand all even with the San Franciscans at 2-2.

"It's always a little tougher playing the Giants up in San Francisco," McNamara said. "It always seems as if you are not only battling the Giants, but also the weather. The way the wind and weather create problems up there anything can happen so you've got to be ever conscious for strange occurrences."

In tackling San Francisco, the Padres will kick off a somewhat brief 22-game run against members of the Western Division before swinging back into play again versus the Eastern Division.

Friday — Led by the hitting of Suzanne Eskridge who drove in seven runs, Jean's Studio beat the Tom's Meats 24-8.

Saturday — Delp Plastering beat Burgin Bin 9-8.
S.V. Merchants beat Nome's Fish 7-1.

Allie Humphries hurled a one hitter and fanned 13 to give her 135 strikeouts for the season.

Purple Power beat Good Body 14-2.
Sportland Mauraders beat the Thunderbolts 14-10.

The Goldiggers came from behind to win 19-18 over the Red Devils.

Salinas Rodeo To Be in July

The California Rodeo at Salinas, Calif. will be held for the 56th time July 17-20.

Opening day appearance of Gene Autry and a 4-day appearance of the En-Capa bareback riders from Boise are among this year's features.

In the arena, cowboys compete for cash, championship buckles and points toward world championship.

Western horse classes for cutting horses and reigned cow hirsers, trick riders, barrel racers, a mare and foal race and three thoroughbred races each day are scheduled.

Jr. World Golf Wins Acclaim From Argentina

The Junior World Golf Championships originated eight years ago by the S.D. County Junior Golf Assn. continues to receive recognition as an outstanding international sports event.

Jorge C. Ledesma, president of the Argentina Golf Assn. is the latest foreign golf official to praise the Junior World concept in a letter to Tournament Director Mrs. Lou Smith.

While confirming the entry of the Argentina National boys and girls junior champions in the Junior World Championships here July 9-12 Ledesma wrote:

"Your intense personal work which has helped give this competition such a wide international scope, deserves the recognition not only of the world's youth, but also of the organizations such as ours that govern the game of golf in their respective countries."

"It is our sincere wish," he added, "that this important new effort by the San Diego County Junior Golf Association is crowned by the success that is so richly deserves."

Representing Argentina in the 15-17 division will be Patricio Santiago Buffo, the national boys titleholder and Maria Marta Abramoff, the girls champ.

Additional foreign entries have been received from Belgium and Panama, raising the number of countries represented so far to 15. Over 25 nations are expected to send players.

Dart Contest at Tram

PALM SPRINGS — The 1975 League Championship Playoffs of the Golden State Dart League will be held at the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway this year.

The competition will be at the Mountain Station of the Tramway on Sunday, June 29 and will run 1-8 p.m. with approximately 100 entries in teams of 4 each playing for the championship trophy. Entrants will be from all areas of Southern California.

Gas Use Up in March

Gas use in California increased in March by 65 million gallons, but still fell below the March, 1973 gallonage of 881.3 million gallons, State Board of Equalization Chief John Lynch said. Gas distribution was up 8.4 per cent over March 1974, but down 12.6 per cent from March 1973.

Baja 'Off-Road' Called 'Dirty, Noisy, Crazy' Race

Off-road racing is a noisy, dirty, crazy exhilarating sport that seems to attract all kinds of people.

But what may be a fabulous first is a mother-son combination who will be competing against one another in SCORE's "AC-Delco Baja International" Friday in Ensenada, B.C., Mexico.

The course is a looping 390 miles south from Ensenada to Camalu making a sweep north and back to Ensenada.

Race fans may watch the race anywhere along the course but most will see it south of Ensenada along Mexican Highway No. 1.

Bernice and Danny Beagles of San Diego have entered the largest and what may be the richest off-road race in history.

Contingency prize money alone is over $117,000, plus a purse expected to exceed $45,000.

Bernice Beagles, 52, who lists her occupation as race car driver, will put a Baja Bug through the gruelling 390 miles of treacherous terrain on the Baja Peninsula. Her husband John will act as her pit crew and will probably lend a hand to son Danny 22, who will be driving a single seat Chenoweth Wedge in a different class than mom.

Racing for the Beagles began in earnest in 1972 when Dan and his father went to Baja to man an Ensenada race check point at Santa Inez Rancho. The thrill of off-road racing left it impression and when they went home and told Bernice they would like to try racing, being the good sport she is, she said, "Let's do it!"

Five months later, Bernice and Dan as co-drivers tried a Baja 1000 race. They got halfway and lost all their shocks. Undaunted, they got another car, entered again the next year and have been racing ever since.

Bernice has stated that after the Baja race it will be son Dan who will be practicing to drive in SCORE's "AC-Delco World Championships" of off-road racing Sept. 6-7, at Riverside Raceway.

This time mom will be in the stands with the thousands of spectators who attend this annual sports spectacular where SCORE brings Baja type racing to the states.

Area Cowboys Are Movie Actors

Members of two San Diego County cowboy polo teams will compete in a match played for the cameras of "Run For Blue", a documentary feature film now being produced for national theatre release.

The public is invited to attend the event on Saturday at 9 a.m., at the Poway Valley Riders arena on Twin Peaks Road in Poway.

The teams competing represent the Poway Valley Riders and the Ramona Rough Riders.

Assistant Producer/Director Jan Shaw, of Winner Circle Films said, "the more spectators we have the better. Admission is free, and everyone will have a chance to watch an exciting cowboy polo match. Our cameramen will be looking for shots of the audience and of spectator reactions, so that means many local people may find themselves in the film."

"After he got up the third time, my manager told me to just box the rest of the way and be satisfied with a decision verdict," recalled the San Diego High graduate. "I wanted to make sure I had enough left to beat the other guy this week."

A prior meeting with Amancio in San Francisco is an ordeal Lujan would like to forget. Although edging his opponent in a tight match, Manny broke his hand in two places and was out of commission for a lengthy period.

In announcing Friday's affair, promoter Mickey Davies indicated that next week's card would be held on Thursday, June 19th, one night before the championship show at the Forum in Los Angeles.

Bentsen Slaps Ford For Rural Treatment

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator Lloyd Bentsen, candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, has accused the Ford Administration of treating Americans who live in rural areas as second class citizens by failing to implement the Rural Development Act.

Bentsen, who co-sponsored the Rural Development Act in 1972, said, "The present ad-

Dog Walking Controlled on City Beaches

If you plan on taking your dog for a stroll along the beach, you had better make sure it is leashed and you are on the right beach at the right time.

According to the County's Department of Animal Regulation, the right time to take your leashed dog for a walk along City of San Diego beaches is between 6 p.m. and 9 a.m. Dogs are prohibited from beaches at any other time (with the exception of Fiesta Island and the mouth of the San Diego River Flood Control Channel). City of San Diego beaches include: Pacific Beach, Mission Beach, Ocean Beach, La Jolla Shores, La Jolla Cove, Children's Pool, Scripps Pier, Windansea, and Tourmaline.

Dogs are not permitted on County beaches at any time. County beaches include: Encinitas Beach Park, Sea Cliff, Seaside Gardens Park, Solana Beach Park and Tide Beach. In the City of Imperial Beach, dogs are not permitted on the fishing pier or north of Coronado ave. to the north where the jetty separates Imperial Beach from Coronado. Dogs on a leash are permitted on beaches south of Coronado ave.

For dog owners who do not observe these laws, the consequences can be costly. A citation, for which the forfeited bail fee is $15 may be issued. In addition an impounding fee of five dollars may be imposed and a one dollar charge can be added for each night the dog remains impounded.

Booths Revived as Learning Tools

Two old phone booths that once served as depositories for nickels, dimes and quarters for Pacific Telephone are now paying off in a classroom at Golden Avenue school in Lemon Grove.

The antiquated pay phones have been stripped from the old wooden booths—repainted orange and white to match classroom decor—and in the phones' place are cassette recorders.

It's on these recorders, in the privacy of their own world, that students tape stories as they read them aloud and then play back their voices to see how well they've done. Mrs. Phyllis Fowler, one of two teachers assigned to the reading laboratory, acknowledges that the booths are working even better than first expected.

"Martha (Martha Silva, Mrs. Fowler's teaching colleague) and I thought the children would merely record their voices and then expect us to judge the results.

"But it hasn't worked out that way. The kids want to hear how they've done and generally want to share their progress with us," she explained.

The booths, Mrs. Fowler said, were acquired through Pacific Telephone's office in the Grossmont Center after Mrs. Fowler had inspected a similar reading lab set-up in another part of the county.

The booths are in use throughout the day by children from kindergarten through fourth grade level, with kindergartners treating the booths as "little rooms in which they can make up stories" while the older children use the mini-studios to sharpen their reading skills.

Mrs. Fowler was hard pressed to explain the popularity of the booths, but she does know they turn kids on.

"I think maybe the booths give students a chance to watch themselves grow. They may read a story through once and after playing it back, they'll do it again, trying to get better expression in their voices.

Whipping The Battle

"They're motivated... they want to read... and when you can get children to want to read, then you have the battle half-whipped," she said.

Will students' interest in the mini-studio concept wane as the newness of the booths wears off?

Mrs. Fowler doesn't think so even though there's less interest in them now than when they were installed a month or so ago.

"At first, it was pandemonium. I spent more time monitoring those booths than I did on anything else. But now we've worked out rou-

Van Deerlin Sees Repeal Of Fair Trade Laws Soon

Repeal of the Fair Trade laws still in effect in California and 24 other states could put $2.5 billion back in the pockets of America's consumers, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, told a breakfast meeting in San Diego during his recent visit here.

He said Congress and state legislatures are "racing" to overturn these statutes, which permit manufacturers to set minimum prices at which their products must be sold.

"Already this year 12 states have nullified their Fair Trade laws and final congressional action by this summer is almost certain," he said.

Van Deerlin, chairman of the House Subcommittee on Consumer Protection and Finance, said most of the Fair Trade laws were enacted during the Depression of the 1930s, when falling prices were forcing many small retailers out of business. The California law has been on the books since 1931. "Today it amounts to price fixing, pure and simple," he said.

About four percent of all products currently are fair traded, including drugs, jewelry, alcoholic beverages and major appliances.

A total of 101 lots have been acquired by Ayres in Rancho San Diego in the past two months and construction on their first phase of 38 new homes has begun. They previously built 102 attached patio homes in Rancho San Diego, and have sold 101 of them to date.

Summer Classes At Helix Adult School Announced

No summer session is planned for Mt. Miguel Adult school, but Sandy Clark of nearby Helix Adult School announced that a variety of classes have been scheduled for that school's vacation months.

Among the more interesting offerings is a six-week session on Genealogy: Tracing Your Family Tree. The course is taught Monday nights beginning June 16.

Physical fitness classes taught during the summer include Cardio-Vascular Fitness (for men), Tai Chi (men and women) and Yoga.

A slate of classes in arts and crafts, personal growth and food preparation is also scheduled.

Summer session at Helix runs June 16 through July 25. Registration is conducted in each class at its first meeting time and costs $1 per class.

The Grossmont Adult School Schedule, a complete listing of adult school courses at Helix as well as at other adult schools in the Grossmont District, is available at post offices, libraries and high schools with adult school programs in the Grossmont Union High School District.

Housing Starts Gain in California

New housing starts in California during April were up slightly from the previous month but well below the rate for April of 1974, Bank of America reported.

New housing starts in the state during April of this year were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 98,000 units compared with 94,000 units during March and 149,000 units for April of last year.

However, bank economists noted that a continued increase in the number of building permits issued for single-family homes during April indicates further gains in housing starts in the months ahead. Almost 10,700 permits were issued for single-family dwellings during April — the highest total since July of 1974, the bank said.

Bank economists said housing starts are expected to reach a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 150,000 units by year's end, but total starts for 1975 are projected at 115,000 units — down slightly from 125,000 units in 1974.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
T.S. No. 75-21796 J
On June 12,

Variety to Spice S. Cal. Exposition

DEL MAR—Are you a fire-works freak, a shutterbug, a square dancer, baton twirler, old-time fiddler, nursery school beauty queen, an antique or custom car fan?

Do you enjoy music, dance, parades, jugglers, marionettes, dog shows, standup comedians, bag packing demonstrations, martial arts exhibitions, magic?

Whatever, it will be available at the Southern California Exposition here June 23-July 6, according to Fran Dow, Special Events Director. In addition to daily grandstand shows featuring such big name stars as the King Family and the Kingston Trio, the fair offers almost continuous entertainment on the Don Diego, Community and Mexican Village stages plus a wealth of events for participants.

Fireworks, almost everybody's bag, will be exploded around 9 p.m. on July 3, 4 and 5 following the grandstand show. The pyrotechnics exhibit here will be one of the largest in San Diego County.

Photo Shoot
Camera fans will take part in a Photo Shoot Day on June 28 with Fairest of the Fair finalists and other models posing against such scenic backdrops as Flower Show booths. Three trophies will be available in categories for color slides and black-and-white. Also for best models.

A Square Dance Jubilee on July 6 will occupy the Community Stage all day long. Baton twirlers will vie on June 29 and 30 for a wealth of trophies in the annual Don Diego Twirling Spectacular. Old-Time Fiddlers Contest will be on the Community Stage throughout the daytime hours of June 28.

The Little Miss of the Expo Contest, open to divisions for grades 3-6 and 7-12, will occupy the Community stage on June 24 from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Antique car races and show will be on June 28 at noon. The Custom Car show in the Little Theater will run throughout the fair.

Vaudeville and variety shows on the smaller stages offer a complete range of entertainment. The Don Diego Varieties on the stage of that name features professional acts.

Television Personality

Jose Gonzales-Gonzales, who became famous after an appearance on the old "You Bet Your Life" TV show with Groucho Marx, holds forth several times daily on the Mexican Village Stage. Also appearing here at 2 p.m. daily is Marie Hitchcock, the Puppet Lady, with a complete new show highlighting an Uncle Sam Puppet in honor of the U.S. Bicentennial.

The Popcorn Theatre Marionettes will perform daily in their own arena near the grandstand at 12:30, 2:30 and 6:30 p.m. with additional 11 a.m. shows on weekends and July 4.

Among stage attractions are the Kiwi Club, made up of former American Airlines stewardesses, who will give bag packing demonstrations at 4 and 6 p.m. daily at the Mexican Village; the Rancho Bernardo Rejects, a senior choral group who will sing on June 30 on the Don Diego Stage; and a square dance exhibition by eight blind people on July 3 on the Community Stage.

The Opening Day Parade will be headed by Don Diego and the Fairest of the Fair will culminate in the official opening of the Expo on the Don Diego Stage by William T. H. Tulloch, president of the fair-sponsoring 22nd District Agricultural Association.

DISTRICT HEAD— Peter Corrao was recently named vice president and district manager of the SGS Real Estate Co.'s District 1. The district includes Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. Corrao has been with the firm since 1970 and is the past manager of the Lemon Grove office.

PUPPET LADY AT DEL MAR—Spring Valley's Marie Hitchcock, the Puppet Lady, will trot out her Uncle Sam puppet in honor of the U.S. Bicentennial for her daily show at the Southern California Exposition June 23-July 6. Uncle Sam and other characters in the Puppet Lady's entourage entertained Vietnamese and Cambodian children at four refugee camps at Camp Pendleton recently. Puppet is shown here at last year's fair with Jamie Stapley, then 8, of Encinitas.

Letters to the Editor

Newspapering has many rewards. The greatest is when it becomes apparent that a person has made a success of life. If the newspaper has helped even in just a small way the warmth of accomplishments comes to the staff and a note is made in the continuing history record that is maintained by the local newspaper.

Even though it has been more than 15 years since we heard from Miss Lemon Grove, 1956, it is all the more surprising that she is still living in the area.

Her heartwarming letter: Dear Editor Goodwin: You are probably wondering, who is Constance Peebles? Well, I am the girl you asked to run for Miss Lemon Grove in 1955. This I did and lost as I was only 15 years of age at the time. I tried again in 56 and this time won. I went on to the fairest of the fair contest and came in third. My name then was Kratz, I lived on El Prado St. Hope you remember me now.

Six years ago I decided to return to school. I have two sisters that joined me in this decision. My youngest sister, Marga Duncan of Lemon Grove graduated as an R.N. last year. The middle sister, Brenda Harris of San Diego, and I graduated Saturday also as R.N.'s.

Bowling Photog
I am married to Dudley Peebles who is the Official Photographer for the Women's International Bowling Congress. He returned from their annual national championship June 1st. This was held this year in Indianapolis.

We have three children, Ric 16, Eva 11, Joy 10. Ric attends Christian High of San Diego in El Cajon. Both of our daughters go to La Presa Elementary and hope to join Ric at CHSD in one more year. We are living most of the time in Spring Valley in a home on top of Dictionary Hill. This home Dudley designed and built himself. On weekends we are fortunate to have a Condo in La Costa where we really do relax.

Becomes Nurse
I plan to work a few days a week as an R.N. in a hospital but I am continuing my education at the University of San Diego where I hope to get a bachelor in public health. I don't plan to ever stop learning now that I have gotten started.

Learning is so much more exciting when you are an adult and have decided to go back to school and you don't have your mother pushing you out the door every morning. Although I would like to add that it was my mother that pushed us out the door many a morning when we were getting a little tired of our nursing training.

Parents Help
A great deal of thanks go to my parents as well as to our families for the encouragement that was necessary to see us through.

Well, now you are up to date and you know who Constance Peebles is and what became of Miss Lemon Grove, 1956. That experience, I might add, is what I owe a lot of my self-confidence to. I never would have entered on my own, so thank you for asking me. A girl who had been called fatty Kratz for the majority of her young years is certainly not going to be a volunteer in a beauty contest.

Connie Peebles

Dear Editor:
Please advise the city fathers that they should rename the junction at Buena Vista, Waite Dr. and High St. "CRISS-CROSS STREET". But to warn motorists not to criss while someone else is crossing.

Cyclists Still In Dark Over Reflector Law

Several bicyclists not familiar with a new California law are operating their vehicles illegally, the Highway Patrol said recently.

Commissioner Glen Graig pointed out that ignorance of the law which changed reflector requirements has resulted in widespread violations. "Field office reports show that youngsters in particular don't know about the law."

Bikes ridden on public roadways must be equipped with CHP-approved reflectors: a white reflector on the front, a red reflector on the rear, a white or yellow reflector on each side forward of center, and a white or red reflector on each side to the rear of center. CHP-approved reflectorized tires may be substituted for side reflectors.

If the bicycle is ridden at night, it must also be equipped with a white light on the front.

The new reflector provisions were added to California law because of the increasing use of bicycles. Night visibility has been inadequate and addition of these reflectors "should help motorists see bikes after dark," Craig added.

Visitor Proves to be Check Artist

A visitor walked into the office of Svedberg's Cabinet Shop, 3580 Olive St., Lemon Grove, several weeks ago and took six blank checks from a brief case on a desk.

Lorne M. Svedberg, shop owner, discovered the loss when his canceled checks came back last week.

The one that caught his attention was a check for $212 that had been taken from the back of the check book. It had been certified with the firm's check protector.

The other five have not shown up yet. He gave sheriff's deputies the names of several suspects.

Smokey Bear Lives

Smokey Bear is alive and well, contrary to rumors that the U. S. Forest Service was phasing out the 30 year old symbol of forest fire prevention.

A live bear called Smokey retired from his title at a special ceremony at the National Zoo in Washington May 2. The announced retirement gave rise to rumors that the real Smokey Bear was being phased out.

The forest service has announced that Smokey Bear will continue to appear in public service announcements on television and newspaper and magazine ads.

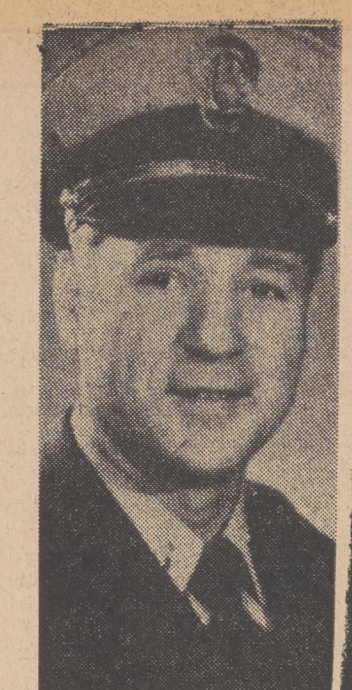

County Crime Increases 33%

Crime in the unincorporated area of San Diego County jumped 33% during the first three months of 1975 compared with the same period in 1974, while the statewide average increased 13.8% and the City of San Diego rose 15.3%, according to figures received by Sheriff John F. Duffy from the Attorney General's office.

Duffy said he is not surprised at the figures and that they confirm his repeated warnings that crime is about to get out of hand in his jurisdiction due to his limited resources.

The sheriff has 196 patrol deputies covering approximately 3,800 square miles of unincorporated area, plus the cities of Del Mar, San Marcos, and Vista.

The population in his primary law enforcement jurisdiction is approximately 400,000 or an average of one deputy for 2,000 residents, and one per 19 square miles.

NEW COMMANDER—Captain Richard L. Dolmseth, a veteran of 18 years service with the California Highway Patrol has been named commander of the CHP's San Diego area office.

He succeeded Capt. Leonard DeGroff, who was promoted to inspector and transferred to Los Angeles as deputy commander. Dolmseth, during his career, has been assigned to the S. LA, Sacramento, San Bernardino area offices, the CHP Academy and CHP headquarters in Sacramento.

He was graduated in 1962 from Cal. State U, Long Beach with a B.S. Degree Cum Laude in Police Science and completed graduate work at Cal. State U, LA and USC. He has an MS Degree in Public Administration (emphasis criminal justice) from USC in 1973. He has attended 15 special schools relating to his profession.

Dolmseth was director for the statewide Vehicle Theft Control Project and commander of the Vehicle Theft section, Enforcement Service Division. His command has 251 personnel including 201 traffic officers.

Williams Wants Price Posting For Gasoline

A San Diego City Councilman is seeking state legislation which would require gas station operators to post prices of gasoline in clear view of passing motorists to encourage comparative shopping.

Councilman Leon Williams efforts with the State augment a resolution submitted to the City's legislative representative also calling for the signs.

Williams was informed by the City Attorney that the city could not require the sign posting since such legislation is pre-empted by the State for the sake of uniform regulations.

Masked Men Rob CdO Pharmacy

Sheriff's deputies were told that three white males, all wearing ski masks, robbed the Valley Pharmacy 4003 Citradora, Spring Valley of money and drugs about 6 p.m. June 4.

The robbers, who were armed, told druggist Gustav Gunderson, "This is a holdup. No kidding." Doris Schmidt, a clerk, and her daughter Barbara Schmidt, 17, visiting the store, and Gunderson, were tied with a nylon and hemp rope.

The three robbers made off with $1,500 in cash and more than 2,000 pills and capsules including dexadrine, seconal, nembutol, turnol and amphetamine.

Repeat Polluters Face Stiff Fines

SACRAMENTO—The Assembly has approved a bill cracking down on repeat violators of pollution laws.

The measure, Assembly Bill 1050, provides for fines ranging from $500 for first-time offenders to $5,000 for the sixth and each successive violation.

"As the law now stands, violators of air pollution standards receive a $500 fine for every day they discharge their noxious contaminants into the atmosphere. For many of them, it is economically more beneficial to pay their daily fine than it is to curb their pollution."

"By graduating the fine, we can put teeth into our regulations by making it as painful for them to pollute as it is for us to breathe their pollutants," assemblymen said.

Female Juveniles In Armed Robbery

Two young black females held up the 7-11 store at 103 Worthington St., Spring Valley about 1:30 p.m. June 4 and made off with an undetermined amount of money which was given to them by Dolores Ann Zender, the store manager.

Zender said that one girl, carrying a 22 cal. rifle, fired a shot that broke the glass door of an electronic oven in the store.

The young ladies took all the cash and change in the register and fled on foot north on Worthington. They were described as teenagers.

Van Burglarized

Richard Bradley Belcher, of 8885 Orville St., Spring Valley, told sheriff's deputies that his loss was more than $400 as the result of a burglary that occurred about noon on June 4. The items, in his 1966 VW van included a cassette tape deck and a suitcase of clothes.
